Episcopal Church Aided By Auxiliary

Quoting from the words of the president, Mrs. Alan S. Moore "The Women's Auxiliary is the international interracial fellowship of the Episcopal Church organized to serve the Church in every phase of its life and in all fields of its activity, stimulating the development of the religious life of the women that they may share in creating a Christian society."

Mrs. Moore With this ideal in mind, the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church Mission was organized Sept. 24, 1919 with Mrs. Phoebe J. Milburn as president, Mrs. William Brecken as secretary and Mrs. Nourse as treasurer. The first church service was held in Campbell Hall on Sept. 28, 1919 with the Rev. Robert Renison celebrating the Lord's Supper.

Minutes of those early meetings mention names which are familiar to all of us; including Mesdames Sprout, Benstead, Sach, Shidder, Siegfried and Brooks. An interesting item in view of present day food prices could be read in the minutes of Nov. 4, 1928, when the following menu was decided upon and given in a fifty-cent dinner—baked ham, sweet potatoes, cabbage salad, buttered carrots, brown and white bread, pumpkin pie and coffee.

In February, 1935, a new Guild was formed of younger women who would work independently. This Guild was named St. Cecilia's. Thus from the early date of Sept. 24, 1919 to 1952, the Women's Auxiliary, St. Cecilia's Guild and the Altar Guild have devoted their time and talents to the work of St. Andrew's Church, which was the name eventually given to the Mission. In 1952, two more Guilds, St. Elizabeth's and St. Anne's were formed to take care of the increased membership of the Church, and in March 1953, St. Mary Magdalene Guild was formed.

These six Guilds are now working in close cooperation with one Board of Officers composed of Mesdames Wayne Norman, recording secretary; Charles Stewart, treasurer; Sam Neely, vice-president; and Moore, president. The most recent project was a bazaar with "A Trip Around the World" as its theme and a steak dinner, held at the church grounds Oct. 24, with all friends of St. Andrew's Church invited.

Masons Plan To Construct New Temple

The 430 members of the Torrance Masonic Lodge are enthusiastic over the new home they have planned for so long and now are about to build. The plans are drawn and approved, and building will start before the first of next year at a one and two thirds-acre site at the corner of Cabrillo avenue and Plaza del Amo.

Mark Wright is Worshipful Master of the local Lodge; Chris Abartsch, senior warden; Frank Schmidt, junior warden; Frederick Cook, secretary; Gordon A. Mothersell, treasurer; Paul Burns, chaplain; Raymond Lougee, senior deacon; and Frank Thompson, junior deacon; Floyd Mead, marshal; Thomas N. Starks, junior steward; and William Gallareto, tiler.

Among the splendid projects sponsored by the Masonic Lodge are the 35 acre grounds and home at Covina for orphans or children without means of support. At this home there are 20 buildings, including a dormitory, hospital, administration building and others. There are tennis courts and playgrounds. The acreage is covered by lemon groves and farm produce lands. At present 69 children are cared for there and the Covina Home can accommodate 180.

Aged men and women are cared for at De Cota in Alameda County, where the home comprises 265 acres and maintains dormitories and a hospital. Adults averaging age 73 are cared for there and 288 now live at De Cota although the home can accommodate 400 in the future.

The Masonic Lodge in Torrance meets every Friday evening and has dinner meetings several times a year.
